Pentecost Sunday

According to Scripture in the book of Acts, the Church came into being on the day of Pentecost. Worshipers were fasting and praying in Jerusalem and the Holy Spirit descended upon them in a violent rushing wind. Small flames of fire rested on their heads and they began to speak in other languages.

The color red is the color of excitement energy, power and all things intense and passionate. As such, red is the color of the Holy Spirit.

You are encouraged to remember and celebrate the birth of the Church by wearing RED to worship on Sunday, May 19th.

Teaching Our Children

Cathy and I are trying to figure out how to work into our schedules getting to Marietta, Ohio to watch our five year-old grandson play T-ball. He's in his first year and looks good in his uniform. His father, our son-in-law, is one of his coaches. It's at least a five hour trip each way and probably will necessitate an overnight stay. But he is our grandson, and we know he and we would appreciate getting to see him play.

We receive reports. He's learning to get in front of the ground ball and begin with his glove touching the ground. Apparently he's better at the latter than the former. He is being taught to swing the bat level. He is being encouraged not just to tap the ball but to smack it hard. The last report on that front was a good one.

His dad has taken him to watch some baseball games. The local small college team is a good one. But if our grandson is to learn to play baseball, if that is what he wants to do, then he can't just observe others. He has to play. He has to be instructed. He has to be shown how to play the game.

The same, of course, is true for becoming a disciple of Jesus Christ. Yes, it helps to observe other disciples. We all can benefit from good examples. But there needs to be more. One needs instruction. One needs to be coached in the practices of the faith. One needs to begin living as a disciple. It's a lifelong, ongoing process of growth.

The stance I have heard from some parents that they are going to remain neutral as to faith and allow their children to decide for themselves is misguided. Yes, it is true that the day will come when each child will decide for him or herself. But what the parents taking this stance seem to miss is that by modeling neutrality toward the faith, they are teaching their children to be neutral when it comes to faith. It would be like never exposing your child to baseball or giving him or her any instruction in the game while trusting that some day when he or she is much older, he or she will decide whether to enjoy playing baseball. We don't take that stance with sports or music or dance, etc. Why would we take that stance when it comes to faith?

The fact is our children do learn from us. There is one memorable car commercial that just causes me to cringe each time I see it. The father is teaching his son how to throw a baseball. Unfortunately, the right-handed father throws by stepping forward with his right foot; just the opposite of what you are to do. And even more unfortunately, the son is learning to throw in just the same awkward, ineffective way. Our children are learning how to be a disciple of Christ from us. So the question for each of us is: Am I modeling and teaching the children in my life what it truly means to be a disciple of Jesus Christ?

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Dale

New Director Hired

This past Sunday, on a day when our preschoolers sang in the 11:00 a.m. service and we thanked Julie Marshall with a dozen roses for her four years directing our preschool, Pastor Dale introduced Rebecca Swander to the 11:00 service. Rebecca has been hired as our new Director of the Angels On High Preschool and Child Care Ministry.

Rebecca has earned both her BA and her MA from Ball State. She taught in the Yorktown Schools for six years teaching third and fourth grades. She is currently in her fourth year as director of a church's preschool and a parents' day out ministry. Rebecca also brings with her a rich background of involvement with her local church.

We are very pleased to have Rebecca leading our preschool and child care ministry. She is already meeting with people here, even as she finishes out the school year at her present job.

The High Street Church Foundation has made available funding for Rebecca's salary from May through July, as she works part-time with us in making decisions about the new facility, enrolling children, and hiring staff.

Geothermal Tour at BSU

Learn all about Ball State's geothermal project. The tour will be led by Jim Lowe, the head of Engineering and Construction Operations for BSU. We'll also answer questions about home and faith organization geothermal possibilities. We'll meet at the Duck Pond, park west of Carmichael. May 19th at 1:00 PM. Questions? Call 289-1826. Sponsored by Hoosier Interfaith Power and Light.

Thank You from Christ House

In April, High Street Church sent $1,746.30 to Christ House in Washington DC. This amount was matched by a Challenge Grant from the Feinstein Foundation. We received this very nice note from Allen and Janelle Goetchus who founded and run Christ House and grew up here at High Street Church.

"Your very generous gift will help many homeless persons. High Street Church will forever be our home church. Please convey our thanks to the congregation."

Thank you for your contributions, both food and monetary, to the High Street Food Pantry!

May's Task of the Month

Wash clothes in cold water; air dry your laundry in the summer. We are so thankful for spring's sun and breeze. Let's use them and give the clothes dryer a rest. Of the major appliances in the typical American household, the clothes dryer uses the most electricity. Here are some tips for doing without a dryer:

- Install a clothesline.
- Plan to do laundry on sunny, breezy days whenever possible. Wash and hang clothes in the morning.
- Hang shirts on plastic hangers to dry. The hangers can be hung on your clothesline outside, on a shower bar, or on a closet rod installed in your laundry room.
- Use folding racks to dry things indoors. These are especially useful in winter, but can be used any time of year.
- A retractable clothesline installed in the basement adds drying space when needed but is easily moved out of sight when not in use.
- Clothes last longer when not subjected to dryer heat.

Child Protection Training

Persons who work with minors (children and/or youth) are required by High Street Church policy to participate once every three years in a Child and Youth Protection Training program. This training provides good information and practices in working with children and youth, as well as ensures the protection of our children, youth and those serving in our child and youth ministries.

This training is not only for adults, but also for our youth who work with children in Sunday school, Vacation Bible School, the nursery and other children's ministries. If you have not had this training before or if you have not been a part of it since 2010, you are encouraged to select one of the dates below and contact the office, 747-8500, to reserve your place in training.

The last session will be held:

- June 19, 6:30 p.m.

Remember, if you work with youth or children you must participate once every three years!

Annual Rummage Sale

The "Basement Bonanza" Rummage Sale will be held June 21 & 22 this year, 8:00-12 Noon.

Start cleaning out your garages and attics! Items needed include tools, toys, housewares, linens, decor, electronics, small appliances, furniture, luggage, books, clothes, shoes, purses, etc. We will let you know when to bring your items to the church.
