

In the United States, the lives of 2.7 million children are impacted by the incarceration of a parent.

*That astounding number translates into one in every 28 children! The Angel Tree ministry is readily recognized by the giving of Christmas gifts through the local church on behalf of the imprisoned parent. High Street Church has participated for many years, reaching out to literally hundreds of children and scores of families. The ultimate goal of Angel Tree is to facilitate the healing and restoration of families devastated by crime and the realities of incarceration. Beyond purchasing a gift at Christmastime, there are many more opportunities to expand the ministry to meet the physical, emotional and spiritual needs of the loved ones of prisoners.
